

WEEKLY ARIZONA JOURNAL-MINER

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Pioneer Paper of Arizona.

PRESCOTT, ARIZONA, WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17, 1906.

Forty-Second Year.

OPPOSITION TO JOINT NEW RAILROAD RATE STATEHOOD IS GROWING

BILL HAS BEEN FRAMED

Insurgents Say the Movement Has Gained Ground Since Saturday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Opposition to the proposed joint statehood seems to be gaining ground, and the insurgents are growing bolder in their denunciation of the proposed administrative measures.

Babcock, of Wisconsin, the leader of the insurgents, and his lieutenants, say their movement has gained ground since Saturday.

The Republican insurgents to both the Philippine tariff and the joint statehood measures are firmly lined up against the administration policy and say that they will not weaken.

"Not Revenge," Says Babcock.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The general debate on the Philippine tariff bill was concluded in the house today, and the bill will be taken up for amendments under the five minute rule tomorrow, and put on final passage either tomorrow or next day.

Preceding the debate today, the statehood fight made its appearance on the floor of the house for the first time in the form of a personal explanation by Babcock, of Wisconsin, who is credited with being the leader of the opponents of the joint statehood forces.

Babcock denied that his course of opposition to the bill was dictated by any feeling of revenge, because he had not been made chairman of the appropriations committee. He also took occasion to state his position in favor of tariff revision.

Tariff talks were made during the day by Dearmond, of Missouri, and Keliher of Massachusetts, who spoke particularly in reference to the needs of that state. Speeches for the pending bill were made by Messrs. Parker of New Jersey; Lamb of Virginia; Bennett for New York, and Randall of Texas. Those speaking against the measure included Goebel of Ohio, Davis of Minnesota, Tindall of Missouri, Campbell of Ohio.

The debate was closed by an extended speech by Boutelle of Illinois, a member of the ways and means committee, in favor of the bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Democratic members of the house interstate and foreign commerce committee have prepared a railroad rate bill which will be introduced tomorrow.

The bill is a comprehensive measure, dealing in all questions involved in the subject. Its essential difference from what is understood to be the majority measure, the bill of Hepburn, of Iowa, is that instead of authorizing the interstate commerce commission to fix a "maximum rate" in accordance with the specific recommendation of President Roosevelt, the rate to be fixed shall be a reasonable one. It forbids the commission increasing any rate which has been fixed, and published as such by an railroad. It authorizes the rate fixed by the commission to be reviewed by courts only when it is shown that such rate does not enable the carrier to realize a fair profit on the capital actually invested in the road, or where the commission has exceeded its power in fixing a rate, making it confiscatory. A rate when fixed by the commission is to become operative in thirty days, and cannot be set aside except by order of the court as a final resort.

The Moroccan Question.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Bacon today succeeded in securing an open discussion on the Moroccan question in the senate. The result was accomplished through the introduction of a resolution making a general declaration against interference on the part of the United States in any controversy among European nations concerning their internal affairs.

The broad scope of the resolution relieved it from the point of order made on the Moroccan resolution, and, notwithstanding that Bacon referred freely to the Moroccan conference, no effort was made to put him off. He spoke at length in opposition to a policy of interference in European internal complications, pointing out the possibility of disastrous consequences, and his address brought out a number of questions and interruptions to relieve the proceedings of the characterization of a set speech.

During the course of the debate Bacon took occasion to express in frank and emphatic terms his disapproval of the policy of participation in the Algerian conference, at the same time voicing his confidence that the President and secretary of war will so guide our delegates as to prevent any departure from the non-intervention policy of the United States.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

the senate. The result was accomplished through the introduction of a resolution making a general declaration against interference on the part of the United States in any controversy among European nations concerning their internal affairs.

The broad scope of the resolution relieved it from the point of order made on the Moroccan resolution, and, notwithstanding that Bacon referred freely to the Moroccan conference, no effort was made to put him off. He spoke at length in opposition to a policy of interference in European internal complications, pointing out the possibility of disastrous consequences, and his address brought out a number of questions and interruptions to relieve the proceedings of the characterization of a set speech.

During the course of the debate Bacon took occasion to express in frank and emphatic terms his disapproval of the policy of participation in the Algerian conference, at the same time voicing his confidence that the President and secretary of war will so guide our delegates as to prevent any departure from the non-intervention policy of the United States.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

Lodge, Spooner and Tillman participated in the debate. Bacon's resolution was referred at his request to the committee on foreign relations.

WOMEN KILLED AND THEIR BODIES BURNED

Father Accused Of Murdering His Wife and Daughter In A Horrible Manner

TILLAMOOK, Ore., Jan. 15.—Another discovery has been made in connection with the mysterious death of Mrs. A. J. Hembree and daughter, parts of whose bodies were found in the ruins of their home at Sand Lake.

All that remained of the woman was a few charred bones, and the suspicion that so small a house as that in which the family lived could hardly give such heat in burning as entirely to incinerate a human body, led to further investigation, with the result that what is believed to be the skulls of the women were found in a sheet iron stove, which was in the house when burned.

A. J. Hembree, the husband and father, was arrested on suspicion of connection with the murder, and is now in the Yamhill county jail, where he was taken after waiving examination in this county to prevent the possible attempt of summary vengeance on the part of neighbors, who firmly believe the prisoner committed the crime to conceal the fact that he had maltreated his daughter.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

house when burned.

A. J. Hembree, the husband and father, was arrested on suspicion of connection with the murder, and is now in the Yamhill county jail, where he was taken after waiving examination in this county to prevent the possible attempt of summary vengeance on the part of neighbors, who firmly believe the prisoner committed the crime to conceal the fact that he had maltreated his daughter.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

The discovery of the skulls seems conclusive evidence that the women were first murdered, their heads chopped off, and afterwards the house was set on fire.

HARVARD PUTS A BAN ON FOOTBALL

S. P. ACCUSED OF CAUSING BLOCKADE

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—Football has been abolished at Harvard, pending the form of the game that will be acceptable to the board of overseers, according to an official announcement today from the university.

The discontinuance of the game is the result of a vote taken last week at a secret meeting of the board of overseers, when it was decided that intercollegiate football at Harvard would not be permitted until the rules and regulations have been changed and amended as to what the overseers regarded the evils of the present game. The overseers accept unanimously the opinion of the special committee that the game as at present played is essential in every respect, and that the method of formation encourages trick and foul play, and that the result is bad for the morals of the players as well as for the body.

The Southern Pacific controls the Pacific Mail Steamship company, according to statements of Taft and Stevens, who, since the abrogation of the freight agreement between the Panama railroad and the steamship company, the latter has been dilatory in calling for San Francisco freight on the west side of the isthmus.

It is alleged that the apparent motive of this course on the part of the steamship company was to hinder materials intended for the canal, to be delivered at Colon by the steamships operated by the government from New York, so that shipments will be necessary over the lines of the Pacific Mail from San Francisco. The blockade had this effect, asserted Stevens.

one of the tugs in some manner got loose from the single tree. He stopped the horse and alighted from the wagon to hitch the tug, when a vicious dog, belonging to some resident of that locality, commenced to make a vicious attack upon him. While searing the dog away, the horse became frightened and started to run and continued a mad race until he reached the Fashion Stables, on the south side of the plaza, which he entered, colliding with a post, throwing the little girl out of the wagon, luckily without inflicting any injury upon her outside of the bad scare that she received in the wild ride. The wagon and harness were damaged to some extent, but the horse, which it is said, is addicted to the runaway habit, escaped uninjured.

The residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when the residence section of South Monmouth street was thrown into consternation yesterday afternoon about 10 o'clock at the sight of a runaway team tearing madly down the street towards the business part of the city, which to a delivery wagon in which a young girl was riding and screaming at the top of her voice. The girl's name is Derham, and the fact that she escaped with her life was a miracle. It appears that Gus Cartmell, an employe of the Prescott Electric company, was driving into town from the residence of a Mr. Derham, who lives immediately south of the city limits, with the little daughter of Derham riding with him in the wagon, when

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS IN TERSE FORM

Annual Bonspiel.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 15.—With the preliminary promise of being one of the biggest and best in the history of the organization, the thirteenth annual bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association began here today. The program covers five days, and comprises six events for which handsome trophies are offered. All the prominent clubs of Minnesota, North Dakota, and Michigan are represented.

Insurance Inquiry.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 15.—Members of the state legislative committee appointed to investigate the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, assembled for their first meeting here today, pursuant to the call of Chairman J. H. Freear.

Lumber Men Meet.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 15.—The annual meeting of the Northwestern Lumbermen's association, which will be in session here during the next few days, has attracted representatives of nearly 2,000 lumber yards in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, and the Dakotas. Many questions of importance to the trade are slated for discussion.

Embezzler on Trial.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 15.—The case of T. I. Cornwell, who is charged with embezzlement, was called for trial today. Cornwell was president of the wrecked Bessemer Savings Bank, the collapse of which, three years ago, was the most disastrous bank failure in this country. Cornwell fled to Mexico, was apprehended, and returned to Bessemer, and has since then been under bond.

The Divine Sara Arrives.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 15.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, and her company arrived here today to begin a season of two weeks at the Boston theater, during which time the celebrated French actress will be seen in all her best known roles. The French society of Harvard university is arranging an entertainment in her honor.

THE METAL MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Silver 65%. Copper unchanged.

IS DEEMED GUILTY.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 15.—At Caldwell today Probate Judge Church committed Harry Orchard on the charge of having murdered Steinberger on Dec. 30. The defense offered no testimony. The accused man is in jail at Caldwell. Twenty witnesses were put on the stand by the state.

ing which time the celebrated French actress will be seen in all her best known roles. The French society of Harvard university is arranging an entertainment in her honor.

THE METAL MARKET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Silver 65%. Copper unchanged.

IS DEEMED GUILTY.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 15.—At Caldwell today Probate Judge Church committed Harry Orchard on the charge of having murdered Steinberger on Dec. 30. The defense offered no testimony. The accused man is in jail at Caldwell. Twenty witnesses were put on the stand by the state.

STRICKEN MERCHANT IS NOT IMPROVING

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The following bulletin relative to the condition of Marshal Field, the Chicago merchant, who is ill with pneumonia in a hotel in this city, was issued at 11:35 o'clock tonight: "Mr. Field is not feeling so well tonight. The disease has not extended but Field shows very much exhaustion."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—There were nine speeches in the house today on the Philippine tariff bill, consuming nearly six and a half hours. Three speakers opposed the bill and six favored it. Among those who argued for the measure was Needham, of California.

The debate will close Monday at 5 o'clock, the session to begin at 11 o'clock in the morning.

ONE OF THE LARGEST CATAMOUNTS EVER SEEN IN THESE PARTS WAS SHOT AND KILLED LAST EVENING AT THE DUKE RANCH, NEAR THE MOUTH OF THE CITY SEWER, BY NORMAN FRENCH, A 14-YEAR-OLD BOY, AND SON OF C. A. FRENCH, THE STONE CONTRACTOR. THE BOY, WHO WAS ARMED WITH A SHOT GUN, LOADED WITH NO. 4 SHOT, WAS RIDING ALONG ON HORSEBACK, WHEN HE SIGHTED THE ANIMAL. WITHOUT DISMOUNTING HE FIRED AT SHORT RANGE, STRIKING THE BEAST BEHIND THE SHOULDER, KILLING IT WITH THE FIRST SHOT.

SCHOONER ABANDONED.

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 15.—Captain Archibald, with his two mates and the lifesaving crews tonight abandoned the schooner Cherokee. The vessel will probably be a total loss.

The Ladies' Catholic aid society will give a New England social in Old Fellows' hall on Friday, January 19. The program will include cards and music. A New England lunch will be served. Everyone cordially invited. Admission 25c.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT IN FIELD'S CONDITION

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The condition of Marshal Field showed a marked improvement early tonight, and the rally which he experienced between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon continued for five hours after it began, and so noticeably was Field improved at the end of this period that those watching at his bedside began to hope for his recovery. One of his three physicians, who earlier in the day, announced to those at Field's bedside that practically all hope of saving his life must be abandoned, said tonight that he believed that Field had a chance of recovery. During the rally Field was perfectly conscious, and said to those who were with him that he was better than he had been at any time during the preceding 24 hours.

At 6:30 o'clock tonight the physicians attending Field issued the following bulletin: "Since 6 o'clock Field's condition has showed a slight improvement. He is a little stronger."

Robert T. Lincoln, president of the Pullman Palace Car company, an intimate friend of Field, said tonight there was absolutely no hope of Field's recovery.

HELLO, BILL!

A Clean Comedy Presented in a Clever Manner.

Since its initial appearance the Geo. Samuels company has undergone a shake-up, and as a result there was a striking improvement in the cast that presented "Hello, Bill," at the Elks' theater last evening. Like every other farce ever written, "Hello, Bill," a clean and clever comedy, would be still more admirable if its three acts could be compressed into one. Nevertheless, it by no means misses its mark of entertaining an audience for a whole evening, and its excellent performance last night greatly enhanced the humor, both in dialogue and in action. In three acts, the predicaments of two Bills seldom pall, but if all the padding were extracted and the best bits strung together, the farce would rush like a whirlwind, not giving the audience breathing spells between explosions of laughter, which is the quintessence of such entertainment.

Coming right on the heels of the Arthur Aisten company, which is perhaps the highest class attraction that has ever visited Prescott, the Samuels people suffered by comparison last night, and some dissatisfaction was heard as the audience filed out. This was unfortunate, as the Samuels' organization is really a meritorious one, and it has been notably improved by the addition of Theodore Marston and wife, who are Thespians of recognized standing in the dramatic world.

Frederick Manly and J. W. Clifford are exceptionally clever in comedy, but the play affords no scope for bright and distinctive work on the part of the feminine end of the cast. That is probably the reason why the talent on the stage appeared to be of a jughandled character.

"Mr. Plaster of Paris," one of the best farce comedies written, will be presented this evening.

The Journal-Miner has three times the circulation of any paper in Northern Arizona.

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER

THE JOURNAL-MINER